

ABSTRACT

The invention concerns a solid composition for de-inking of recycling paper comprising at least one fatty acid that is partially saponified with at least one alkaline substance. The invention further concerns preparation and use thereof.

Figure 1. The structure of the proposed model.